Documentation of High School Diploma, GED, or Homeschooling

HSGED

On your financial aid application, you indicated that you do not have either a high school diploma or General Education Development (GED) certificate and that you were not homeschooled, or you left the question blank, or you were selected to verify receipt of one of these items.

Federal regulations state that students who have not completed high school, obtained a GED certificate or completed homeschool are not eligible for Title IV federal student aid unless they enrolled in a Title IV eligible academic program prior to July 1, 2012, and have successfully completed at least six credit hours of postsecondary education.

Please indicate your high school completion status and attach documentation:

- ☐ Check here if you have a high school diploma. Attach a copy of the high school diploma or transcript. Transcript must show the date of high school completion. This can be from a foreign school if it is the equivalent to a US high school diploma.
- ☐ Check here if you have a GED certificate. Attach a copy of the GED certificate.
- ☐ Check here if you have a certificate demonstrating that you passed a state-authorized examination that the state recognized as the equivalent of a high school diploma. Attach a copy of the certification.
- ☐ Check here if you have successfully completed homeschooling at the secondary level. Attach documentation (a transcript or the equivalent), signed by the parent or guardian, that lists the secondary school courses completed and includes a statement that the student successfully completed a secondary school education in a homeschooling setting.
- ☐ Check here if you have successfully completed at least a two year program that is acceptable for full credit toward a bachelors degree. Attach an academic transcript that documents that completion. If the transcript indicates at least a two year program but less than a bachelors degree, OHSU will then review to see if the credits are transferrable to a bachelors degree.

If you are unable to check any of the boxes above, please contact our office to determine if there are any other criteria that can be used. If it's determined that you are not eligible for aid, you could apply for alternative educational funding. If you want to pursue that avenue, please contact our office for additional information.

By signing this form, I certify that all the information reported on it is complete and correct. Warning: If you purposely give false or misleading information, you may be fined, be sentenced to jail, or both.
